Meeting Closes With Water Wagon Purchase

When Carmel was first incorporated, at a time when the population was a little over 500, the regular meetings of the board once a month was, with few exceptions, the only meeting of the month.

That has changed now. Our population is over two thousand. Many new homes have been built, new businesses, have been established, much street work has been done. Police, fire, traffic and other matters need attention. All this requires more and more the time and attention of the trustees and other officials. So that instead of one meeting a month for the transaction of routine business, there are now three and four meetings within each thirty days.

Last Monday one of these numerous meetings was held. Trustees Kibbler, Goold, Larouette, Dennis and Parkes, City Attorney Campbell and City Clerk Van Brower were present.

Final reading was given the ordinance providing for the appointment of A. P. Fraser as deputy in various municipal departments. His bond was fixed at $2000. The ordinance regulating the restoration of torn-up streets was also passed to print.

A letter from the Carmel Protective League was read. It gave what was alleged to be the vote taken at the recent meeting of the League called to discuss the house numbering proposition.

Trustee Parkes called the attention of the board to the need for street signs and a motion was adopted referring the matter to the City Planning Commission for a recommendation.

James F. Pollard of the Coast Valleys Gas and Electric Co. sent in a letter asking that the trustees order the houses in Carmel numbered, stating that his company had great difficulty in having mail delivered. Placed on file.

Fire Chief J. E. Nichols' request for the purchase of fire hose was not granted, owing to the fact that the board felt that such request should come direct from Commissioner of Fire and Police H. P. Larouette, who was asked to make a recommendation at the next meeting. The relations of the Commissioner and the Chief are not harmonious.

Some spirited conversation between Trustee Goold and Dennis came about when the matter of street equipment and the purchase of a water wagon was being discussed. Anyway, it was decided to purchase on approval for $250 a second-hand water-wagon from an Oakland concern. It can be hitched to an automobile, to horses—perhaps to a star. Outside the rail various persons were suggested for a seat on the water-wagon.

Ball Players Acquit Themselves Admirably

By R. W. R.

We have full reason to hope that the presentation of "A Bill of Divorcement" at the Theatre of the Golden Bough Wednesday and Thursday nights was a happy augury for a season of production under George Ball. For both in the selection of the vehicle and his choice of players, Mr. Ball gave us a solid promise of good things to come.

Here's a bold declaration of rank heresay which should be punished by burning at the stake—the stake to be set directly behind Carmel's soldiers' monument and handy to the gasoline filling station:—There are some people in this arcanum of art who fail to be lifted by moanings under stained glass windows and howlings in an Irish bog. By the highly esoteric and "arty" dramatic tidbits of the Synge and Dunsany bakeshop; by the "significant" plays written by little dramatists for little theatres.

This is a sad fact, but undoubtedly true.

Wherefore the undisguised pleasure shown by this willful minority at Mr. Ball's selection of "A Bill of Divorcement," for the opening of his season. Coming, not from Provincetown or from Taos, but from London and New York, this play by the brilliant English woman, Clemence Dane, appears to carry about as much of life as a spectator without a handbook on "The Little Theatre Movement," can assimilate.

Many who saw it drew comparisons with St. John Ervine's "The Ship," which was a Golden Bough offering not so long ago, mighty well received. Both plays uncover the march of tragedy with a restraint that is the highest art.

And this restraint in the manuscript of "A Bill of Divorcement," was admirably followed both in Mr. Ball's direction and in the acting of his players and himself. There were moments in the play, noteworthily at the curtain of the second act, when the least break in the studied repression would have flipped tragedy into bathos. The credit for this goes to Charles McAllister and Miss Nora Derby, accomplished actors both.

Carmel saw Miss Mary Shallue in "Merton of the Movies," at the Golden Bough last summer; but it was a far more clever Miss Shallue who carried the part of Sydney Fairfield through to the high moment of the final curtain on Wednesday and Thursday nights. In many ways hers was the most exacting role of the nine; she carried it with an evenness a little superior to Miss Derby's.

It is to be hoped that when Frank Sheridan made his bow to Carmel in the part of Dr. Alliot—and it is said his was a twelfth-hour impressment—it will not be the last. Mr. Sheridan, now a resident, is an old-time trouper whose talents are known to every Broadway producer. During his minutes on the stage he was wholly dominant.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davison Miller entertained a number of their friends at dinner. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Morgan Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Guy O. Koepp, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Crothers, Mrs. Mary B. Bardesen and Mrs. Marie Nelson Lee.

Red Cross Members Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Carmel Red Cross chapter was held at the City Hall, Wednesday afternoon, with a large attendance, Miss Ruth Huntington, in the chair.

After the reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, Mrs. E. K. de Sabla, chairman of the civilian relief and home service committee, gave an informal, but very interesting report of her work in the community, after which a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks was given her for her generous and wise help in that field, as well as to Dr. McAuley, Dr. McCollum, Dr. Hellison and M. J. Murphy, whose professional skill and generosity she had found unfailing.

Mrs. Newton, leader of the Girl that had been made possible for the Scouts, told of the life-saving lessons Girl and Boy Scouts by the appropriation last year.

Miss Miriam Arnold White spoke of the children in the public school who need the milk for the distribution of which a small fund was voted last year and repeated this year.

Dr. H. W. Fenner, who, with John B. Jordan and C. O. Goold form an emergency and disaster committee, urged the setting aside of a sum to be used for such emergency only. It was voted that $500 be reserved in the treasury as such a fund, for local relief in disaster, and to add to this fund when more money became available.

The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Fenner, Mrs. Willard, Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. Elliot and Mr. Skene, brought in the following names of persons to succeed the five directors, whose three-year term of service expired at this meeting: Mr. Peter Taylor, Miss Kate Corrigan, Mrs. Ralph Skene, Dr. Tower and Miss M. A. White. These were elected.

The Annual Red Cross Roll Call occurs between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving. Owing to the low state of the treasury it is hoped that the house-to-house solicitors of annual memberships will enroll more contributing and sustaining members at $5 and $10, than heretofore. A booth will be opened near the post-office the last few days of the drive, where such people as are not found at home may contribute.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors which followed, officers were elected for the coming year. They were: Miss M. A. White, chairman; Miss Ruth Huntington, vice-chairman; Paul C. Prince, secretary; Peter Taylor, treasurer. These officers make the executive committee with the addition of Dr. Tower, Miss Corrigan and Mrs. Skene.

For the committee of civilian relief and home service, the chairman appointed Mrs. Skene, Miss Corrigan and Dr. Tower.

The Pine Cone is in receipt of inquiry as to whether "The Admirable Crichton," Sir James M. Barrie's delightful play, now being produced by the University of California's Little Theatre, will be played at the Golden Bough by the same organization. These players have appeared here in "Outward Bound," and "Candida." Ask George Ball.

Early in the week, a familiar sight on Carmel streets were groups of gobs from the U.S.S. Mississippi, anchored in Monterey Bay for three days.

Pioneer of Carmel Has Passed Away

On Monday, October 26th, Mrs. Mary E. Ury, mother of Miss Frances M. Ury and Lena Ury Brake, passed away at the home of her daughter in San Jose, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Ury was an old resident of Carmel and purchased one of the first lots sold by the Carmel Development Company, her choice having been the corner of Ocean avenue and Lincoln. She lived through the pioneer days of a town without a light or water system, bakeries or market, automobiles or telephone; she greatly enjoyed the national beauties and simple life, but welcomed all changes which made Carmel a more comfortable home town.

Mrs. Ury was born in Elk Grove, Wisconsin in 1838. Her early married life was spent in Lancaster, Wisconsin, where her husband was active in business and political life. She came to California when still a comparatively young woman and lived until her husband's death in San Jose, since that time she has divided her time between her two daughters, Miss Frances Ury of San Jose, and Mrs. Lena Brake of Carmel.

Mrs. Ury was a second cousin of Ezra Cornell, the founder of Cornell University, New York.

"HOW D'YE DO"

Positive! That's what Carmel is—and Dramatic. Positively dramatic! What have they been doing now? Why they have jumped into George Bernard Shaw's vehicle, "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," and are making themselves comfortable.

To be sure it takes careful adjusting to keep the running gears free—forty men on one side, and one lone woman on the other—but the placements and displacements have been under the direction of no less a person than Perry Newberry, and there is not a squeak—not even in the fifth wheel or the sixth sense.

Civic duty is an unwelcome admonishment, so we won't use it. There! But would it not be amusing to see your Mayor holding an "inquiry" with some of your friends and enemies in the 'dock' and an internationally famous woman as the counsel for the prosecution. Whew! and how she does prosecute.

Personal observation is positively essential—for in spite of the fact that the entire masculine personnel of the Post-office will be conspicuous, authorized carrier deliveries are a long way off. Your message will be ready for you on Friday and Saturday nights, November 6th and 7th, at the Arts and Crafts Theatre.

THE SERRA NOTES

The suit which Carmel Martin as chairman of the Serra Pilgrimage Committee, brought against Percy Parkes to enforce payment of $70 on the note given by Parkes as part of the Pilgrimage undertaking was decided in favor of Martin in the Superior Court, where it was carried on appeal by Parkes, after an adverse Justice Court decision. Mr. Parkes has made payment of $135.13 on account of his suit. It is Mr. Martin's purpose to bring suit against the other note-endorsers who have not paid, unless they make payment within a few days.

SUPPORT COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS

THE management of the Arts & Crafts Theater is urging upon its membership and Carmel generally a generous support for its dramatic season's opening, "Captain Brassbound's Conversion." For nearly twenty years the club of Arts & Crafts has been the one community effort that has persisted, and it has given to Carmel not only entertainment in many lines of endeavor, but has done much to advance the favorable reputation of the town abroad.

Almost the entire revenue of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts comes from the sale of seats at the various plays and entertainments at its theater. During each year, performances of high class, musical and artistic, are given at a financial loss, and this is an understood part of the club's expense. Again, many entertainments in theater and hall are given for the membership and their friends without any charge. So it is essential that when popular plays are presented with the intent of pleasing an audience, a loyal support is there to add to the club's revenues.

HOW RADIO HELPS HEALTH

THE influence of the radio, increasing as it does the pleasures of farm life in the home, is a great factor in conservation of health.

Radio service in many of the states includes broadcasting of what are known as health exercises, or doing what is known as the "Daily Dozen." These physical exercises in the home are supplemented by sending out illustrated charts free from the broadcasting station, illustrating the application of this radio feature. The managing director of one station reports requests from more than 5,000 homes for the illustrated physical culture chart.

When you consider that hundreds of stations in all parts of our country are sending out these health exercises, the radio as a family doctor is reaching millions of people. Carmelites may "tune in" K G O (Oakland) at 7:15 a.m. or 7:45 a.m. for the second class.

A TAX ON INDUSTRY AND THRIFT

"THE call to brotherhood is an imperative law of life which may not be disregarded except at our own peril," says Rev. Elmo A Robinson, pastor of the Unitarian Church of Palo Alto.

"It involves much more than a sentimental demand for personal kindliness; it has wide social implications as well as personal ones; it calls for our deepest wisdom as well as our sincerest good will.

"To use an illustration now exciting much comment, consider the personal property tax by which manufacturers and merchants are taxed on their machinery and merchandise.

"This law may be the product of ignorance, but practically it is an attack upon those who are prosperous, without reference to the quality of service upon which their prosperity is based.

"It hurts business, and it reacts upon consumers, especially the poor, most disastrously. It makes all the things we eat and wear more costly by an amount equal to all the taxes of all the business enterprises connected with them.

"Neither love nor wisdom gave birth to that unbrotherly law. It should be repealed."

RED CROSS AID TO VETS MOUNTING

Heavier Demands for War Service Laid to New Legislation Granting Wide Benefits.

ACTIVE FORCES AIDED ALSO

Duty to Ex-Service and Service Men First Responsibility of the Red Cross.

A marked increase in the service given by the American Red Cross to ex-service men, through Chapters, hospitals, Government and Red Cross offices during the past year, and which volume is expected to be maintained during most of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, is shown in the reports of the war service activities of the organization, just completed.

Service to the disabled and to men now in active service continued to be one of the primary obligations of the Red Cross. The increased activities in this regard were attributed largely to the legislation giving new benefits to ex-service men.

The keystone of the Red Cross service lies in the Home Service work of the chapters to veterans and men still in service. At the close of the fiscal year June 30, 1925, 2,591 Chapters were active in this work and had expended approximately $2,237,000.

Included in their work was assistance to ex-service men in making out adjusted compensation papers, in the handling of claims reopened, or made possible under liberalized terms of the World War Veterans' Act of 1924; and in many other ways.

An unusual amount of legislation passed by Congress and State bodies has necessitated the issue of much new material in the past year. Legislation was passed during the year liberalizing conditions applying to hospitalization, compensation and other benefits under the Veterans' Bureau; this in turn has entailed reopening of many claims formerly disallowed, filing of many new ones, and many applications for hospitalization. The Claims Service at National Headquarters this year handled 17,506 in comparison with 12,010 cases the previous year.

Increased service to men in hospitals was noted, as well in the number of hospitals in which service was maintained by the organization. Due to new legislation an increase of over 6,000 patients were admitted for hospitalization, a new peak approximating that of March 1922. Since a large number of this group includes patients not eligible for compensation, the solution of their personal and family problems has involved careful study by the National Organization.

There are 30,000 disabled ex-service men in Government hospitals every day of the year, and their need has directly led to a revival of the best-known and perhaps most popular activity the Red Cross sponsored in war —a new campaign for knitted "Red Cross sweaters." These articles are among the few not furnished by the Government.

For the men still on active duty in the Army, Navy and Marines, the Red Cross during the year maintained Field Directors at all important stations, camps, and hospitals of these armed forces of the country.

A monthly average of 96,931 service and ex-service men were aided by the Red Cross during the year.

The man in service, and the man who has served his country are among the primary responsibilities for which the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress. Nevertheless it has many other obligations and it is on this basis that an appeal will be made for a larger enrollment than ever during the Annual Roll Call, Armistice Day, November 11, to November 26.

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA SCHOOL

Harris Allen, A. I. A.
In the Pacific Coast Architect

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA is sometimes called "The Land of Unsuppressed Desires;" it is certainly a paradise for Artists, and while it holds many mortals like the rest of us, it is also the haven for some immortals. To describe Carmel adequately requires an appreciation of the simplicity of life there, for its residents are international in taste and refinement, free in thought and action. A school for its children should in some measure typify the atmosphere of this place, so when the architect, John J. Donovan, was commissioned to solve this interesting problem he was impressed with the thought that simplicity, quietness, the domestic quality of a home, should be the governing motives.

This is not easy to accomplish and yet adhere to the recognized standards of lighting, hygiene and facilities for group education. If it were possible to limit the class numbers to five, ten, fifteen or even twenty, no doubt the architecture of schools would be simpler and would express more the intimacies of the home, but when classrooms require seating from thirty-five to fifty-five, the problems of adequate lighting, ventilating and unit space volumes enter into the problem, and considerably affect not only the plan but the composition of the architecture of the exterior. This is true as well in orienting the building.

The plan shows four classrooms and a kindergarten. The classroom will seat approximately forty-five pupils, while the kindergarten will care for thirty. The building is located on a hillside and faces the playground on the east. The classrooms have south and east light, which is most favorable, for the mornings are usually overcast with the fog from the bay. The sloping site prompted an open court where the smaller children might play and gambol; it also permitted the east section of the building to be two stories in height, thereby providing a fine play room space in the basement section of this wing.

The roof will be of tile and the walls stuccoed with color. The plaster will have a rough texture and bright colors will predominate, which, with the setting of pine trees and foliage into which the building nestles, should prove interesting.

The Social and Commercial Printing department of the Pine Cone Press is equipped to efficiently render a complete printing service.

Whitney Case Attracts Interest of Carmelites

Editor Pine Cone
Carmel.

Dear Sir,

Will you kindly give me space in your columns for some words on the Whitney case. I do not wish to repeat what we all know of the character of Anita Whitney and her life of service to the unfortunate classes of our country, nor do I wish to emphasize the well-known but quite irrelevant facts of her social connections and personal charm.

I do wish to say something of the illogical and illegal circumstances of her conviction. She is charged superficially, by those ignorant of her case, with "preaching violence," and with joining a party which stood for violence. She never preached violence, and she did not break any law in joining the Communist Labor Party, which did not exist when the Criminal Syndicalism Law was passed. It was only an arbitrary interpretation of the law which brought the party under its ban.

Before the Whitney trial, the Party was declared legal by the federal courts, and continued to exist legally in more enlightened states, while in this state it was unlawfully terrorized out of existence. So much for the present clamor for "law" observance in the Whitney case.

Further, the indictment itself was not served until it was necessary to silence her on subjects of perfectly legal discussion, which nevertheless were uncomfortable subjects for certain elements of the community.

At the trial itself, under the vague charge of "criminal syndicalism," no definite charge was made. It was as though you should charge a man with murder, and without charging that anyone had been murdered, should convict him on the fearsome definition of what constitutes murder. Irresponsible testimony was given, which had no connection with her own acts, but which was introduced to prejudice the jury.

The United States Supreme Court, has at last with long-drawn-out reluctance, apparently, passed upon the constitutionality of the California law—not upon the case itself. The imprisonment of Miss Whitney would be a disgrace to the state and it is not too late for every self-respecting individual and organization, and especially the churches, to make an appeal to the governor for the unconditional release not only of Anita Whitney, but of the 70 less fortunately circumstanced prisoners who are incarcerated under this hysterical law.

Yours for law and justice,
ANNA PORTER

Carmel-by-the-Sea
California
October 28th, 1925.

To the Honorable
Governor of California
Sacramento,
California.

We, the residents of Carmel-by-the-Sea and neighbors of Charlotte Anita Whitney, in meeting assembled, do, through our Chairman and Secretary, hereby petition you to exercise your prerogative to issue to Miss Whitney an unconditional and immediate pardon.

We believe that the war is over and that so valuable a woman as Miss Whitney should not be sacrificed to the remains of war hysteria. Few women have rendered their communities such valuable service as Miss Whitney for many years has to hers, and we believe that California will be made ridiculous in the eyes of the world if at this date, she should be sent to prison.

We understand that in no other state of the union is there a Criminal Syndicalist law remaining, that in no other state would she be in such danger and because of this we ask you to act and give her a pardon.

Respectfully,
SEVILLA H. FORD, Chairman
MARY E. BULKLEY, Secretary.

TO HELP BUILD UP THE PENINSULA

Many Carmelites are interested in a new peninsula organization to be known as the Monterey Peninsula Building and Loan Association, with a capital of $75,000. The sum of $25,000 has been paid in by stockholders in Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove.

The first board of directors consists of the following: Fenton P. Foster, former secretary of the Monterey Chamber of Commerce, M. W. McMenamin, C. Tynan, Ray C. DeYoe, and James Pollard. The officers are: President, M. W. McMenamin; Vice-president, James F. Pollard; Secretary-treasurer, Fenton P. Foster.

The purpose of the association is the upbuilding of the Monterey Peninsula. The idea was first conceived by Mr. Foster, who has long realized the need for such a service. Talks with peninsula financiers found them responsive to the idea and the plans were formed. The association will be operated under the direction of the state building and loan association. Offices for the new concern will be centrally located in Monterey.

There are thousands of dollars available on the peninsula for community development, for which the company will pay depositors six per cent. The money will be used to finance homes on the Monterey peninsula, secured by first deeds of trust.

Stockholders to date in the organization besides the above named directors: F. H. Beckman, J. B. Jordan, P. K. Gordon, H. W. Turner, S. H. Pickles, J. H. McKee, H. W. Fenner, J. L. Doulton, M. J. Murphy, J. F. Devendorf, Allen Griffin, A. B. Jacobsen, T. B. Reardon, Chandler Stewart, Ed. Simpson and George L. Wood.

A NOTABLE EXHIBITION

The exhibition of the work of William Ritschel, Carmel artist, member of the National Academy, opens in the Palace of the Legion of Honor tomorrow.

Best known for his marine painting, Ritschel will show among his 29 exhibits his work as an artist of racial characteristics as exemplified by his "Tahitian Girl," "Bali Girl, "Study of a Javanese Girl," and several others. His ability as a portrait painter will be shown by his canvas, "Portrait of Alfonso."

Twelve of the hangings, however, will have to do with the artist's favorite subject, the California Coast. He has his studio at Carmel Highlands, overlooking the Pacific, and most of his marines are characterized by the Cypress tree bending before the wind. Others of his exhibition will show the brilliant splendor of the South Seas, of Spain and Italy, with one remarkable setting of Katwyk, in Holland.

Ritschel's work is marked by a simple, direct manner. His seas are caught in their various, ever-changing moods, with an atmosphere of extraordinary realism. Those in charge of the exhibition anticipate that a throng of art lovers will visit the Legion of Honor gallery during the showing of Ritschel's canvases.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Anne's Guild will be held on Tuesday, November 3, at the Rectory.

In which may be found most anything or nothing; sometimes to your taste—sometimes not. Concocted and served by IRRESPONSIBLE AL

"Fraser Looms." That's the name of the new weaving concern just established by Mrs. Bernice Fraser. Sounds good, doesn't it? The naming of a new business is often a matter for much thought and consultation. For instance, some of the names suggested for the Fraser shop were: "The Golden Thread," The Lines of Color," etc. But "Fraser Looms" seemed the most appropriate. So now this new local concern takes its place with Carmel's "Cabbages and Kings," "The Pine Cone," The Seven Arts," "The Cinderella Shop," "The Bloomin' Basement," "The Corner Cupboard," "The Jasmine Bush," the "Theatre of the Golden Bough," and "The Game Cock."

Some of you may consider pock-marked dirt roads necessary to your well-being and peace of mind; a justification of the use of the word "unique" as applied to Carmel, no doubt. But when roads are so bad as to endanger life, I fail to see the humor of it.

Those of us who are accustomed to making daily trips "over the hill" know where the really bad bumps are, and learn to respect them accordingly. And it's not difficult learning where they are and memorizing their exact geographical location — especially when we're allowed too much time in which to familiarize ourselves with them.

BUT—consider the stranger. He knows not our affectations; he knows not our weakness for an undisturbed nature and our horror at the thought of polluting fair Carmel with man-made surfaces on which to ride the more comfortably.

Seven persons learned last Sunday morning that they had reached the city limits of Carmel, AND THEY DAMAGED ONE OF OUR PINE TREES FINDING IT OUT. If we don't care anything about our personal comfort, let's at least protect our trees by removing that vicious slump in the road.

Do you long for the "good old days" of ten — or even five — years ago? APPLESAUCE! You were'nt happy then. It's a trick our mem'ry plays us. Past childhood pleasures seem doubly so when viewed through the haze of intervening years. We visited Uncle Jim's farm for three weeks. We played in the apple orchard, climbed the trees, ate the fruit; we trudged along behind the plow and smelled the sweet earth as it was freshly turned up; we sat in the furrow and investigated the different insects the plow had disturbed—then we fell all over ourselves trying to catch up with Uncle Jim. And when the sun had set Uncle Jim lifted us high up on Nellie's back, and we rode in state back to the rambling old farmhouse. Yes, we enjoyed ourselves—but we didn't have near as good a time nor as much pleasure then as it seems we had when looking back. No, we DON'T long for the good old times—we'd look rather foolish doing that stuff now.

Once again I say, inelegantly but expressively, APPLESAUCE! Ten years from now we'll be LONGING FOR THE GOOD OLD TIMES WE HAD IN 1925, when Carmel was fighting over paved roads, city managers and a commercialism that threatened to overbalance the legitimate needs of an artistic populace.

Cheer up, the sun hasn't gone out of business.

"The Getaway," Charlie Van Riper's Play

These two articles from "Variety," a theatrical review publication, will give the Carmel friends of Charles Van Riper some idea as to what "The Getaway" is all about.

Washington, Sept. 29.

Dramatists' Theatre, Inc., in association with William Harris, Jr., presents a new play by Charles K. Van Riper. Staged by Ira Hards. Featuring Violet Heming. At Belasco, Washington, D. C., week Sept. 21.

Here is one that has everything. It ranks high as one of the cleverest bits of satire yet tried out in this man's town. The local scribes lauded it to the skies.

It is the dyed-in-the-wool, old-time melodrama kidded. But kidded in such a way that the "customer" thinks he or she is the only one in on the kidding, quite some accomplishment in itself.

But with all its satire the piece does out a bunch of real thrills that grips.

Build this around a regular girl, who kids the bad men, then give it a worthwhile production and an excellent cast and 'twould seem that those listed above as responsible for this undertaking have a mixture that will inject vim and vigor into any previously ailing box office.

It is all about a girl, an easterner, who has much of this world's goods. She meets a western ranch owner. Their two wills cross as to where the new home will be and when he can't win the argument, he walks out on her—with the girl following, and then the fun begins. She has gotten as far as Chicago, drops in to see a movie 'till train time, following which she gets into a deserted taxi with the engine running. After a long wait the "far-famed" Chicago gun men, after a stick-up load themselves into the taxi and they're off—for the west.

Getting safely through with the girl worrying the tough mugs to the limit, and with them afraid to "bump her off," there is much laughter created, many unexpected as well as usual surprises sprung until finally in the last act, by a ruse, she leads them to the ranch of the "man." Gets them there on the stall that they can make a getaway with the payroll that is brought in on the last day of each month by the air-mail. The western professional bad man, who the girl calls "Bill Hart," is there before them. He is almost kidded out of it and the straightening out of things supplies a wow of a final stanza. For once, in many moons, an author's work was unfolded wherein he has builded for his final, instead of "shooting" it all in the first act, or endeavoring to kid his auditors along for a big finish.

The telling of this tale does not by any means do it justice. "The Gorilla" would be terrible in the telling but this one is more subtle and it is predicted "The Getaway" will click even more firmly.

Violet Heming, featured, carries a heavy burden on those slim shoulders of hers and does it beautifully, as she has done in many instances before. She should be starred.

Atlantic City, Oct. 1.

"The Getaway," an adventure play in three acts and five scenes by Charles K. Van Riper, with Violet Heming in the leading role is the old-fashioned melodrama very much modernized. The story unfolds smoothly and rapidly enough to provide an evening of excellent entertainment. Mr. Van Riper does the unusual in his play, in that he starts with a first act scene of light comedy and, turning abruptly to melodrama, works up to a third act which packs enough excitement to fill half a dozen shows.

However, most of the success of "The Getaway" is due to the superb work of Miss Heming and a well selected cast. Miss Heming has the role of Beatrice Terhune, an ultra-modern society girl, who immediately after snaring her "Wyoming Bill" (Minor Watson) quarrels with him. The same evening she packs and, with her aunt, starts for China. While in Chicago she steps from a picture theatre to a waiting taxi left standing by a notorious crook and his henchmen who kill and rob the treasurer of the house. How she is whisked away, kidnaped and forced to make a cross country journey as the prisoner of the escaping gun-men, is told in rapid-fire manner. Of course, she is carried to Wyoming, a few miles from Bill's ranch, and justice extricates her.

No better selection for Bill could have been made than Mr. Watson. His love scene in the first act with Miss Heming, mildly burlesqued at times, is a fine bit of light comedy.

C. Henry Gordon, Eric Dressler and Louis Snoring, as the gun-men, and Paul Harvey as the western bad man, were excellent. The lesser roles were filled capably by Dallas Taylor, Penelope Hubbard, C. MacLean Savage, Marle Stanton, Arthur Allen, Ernest Pollock and Anthony Stanford.

CARMELITES MAKE BIG LAND PURCHASE

Benjamin F. Wright, President of the Monterey Building Company, announces the sale of approximately one hundred building sites in the attractive Monterey Heights district.

The purchasers are Frank Sheridan and Mrs. Ethel P. Young and Robert G. Stanton, all of Carmel. Sheridan is late of New York, but, as he says, he has reformed, and will hereafter vote in Carmel. He is a former actor and is now a music publisher. He has put out millions of copies of "Marcheta," California's own song.

Mrs. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Stanton have been Carmelites for some time, being engaged in the real estate and contracting business.

BOYS' CLUB TO SWIM

The Boys' Club will have their Swimming Party at the Del Monte Bath-house, Friday afternoon November 6. The friends who are to furnish cars will please be at the school-house at 3:15. Tickets will be furnished the members. Those in the High School will wait at the bath house for the others to arrive. The number is limited.

CARMEL ARTISTS ON CLUB PROGRAM

The leading speaker at the open meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club, held in the House of the Four Winds in Monterey this week, was Frank Sheridan of Carmel. His topic was "The Drama," a subject upon which he is well qualified to speak.

Roberta Leitch, another Carmelite, sang a number of songs. Mrs. George H. Richardson, also of this city, was the accompanist.

Notes About Authors

Konrad Bercovici, called an artist of life with the gift of tongues, presents in his book, "On New Shores," thoughtful considerations of what is to become of the many peoples who are composing one American people. He goes about it differently from the native professors. He has mingled with these racial groups in the regions they have chosen to settle in. He believes that "regional fitness will be the great arbiter of the type of the future American." His discussion contains much that is of more than usual interest.

B. H. Lehman, the University of California professor, who wrote "Wild Marriage," was invited recently by Maxim Gorki to visit Gorki at his home at Capo di Sorrento in Naples. And Lehman has written to his publishers: "That was an experience: the great humane creature working away at his books amid a household of admirers, satellites, parasites, dependents, victims of soviet Russia or of life generally—simple and kind beyond my observation among men—talking freely of all things, below the sad, hurt look of his eyes—a look beyond bearing when he smiles!"

"Poems by Two Brothers," the first publication by Lord Tennyson, jointly produced by himself and his brother Charles, was recently found by a London bookseller in a sack of waste paper. It is said to be worth $300.

Gertrude Nelson Andrews is on a very successful lecture tour in the East. She recently spoke to the women of the interparliamentary delegation, and for the Susan B. Anthony foundation in Washington. She has been made a member from California of the S.B.A. foundation, and is now filling engagements in Boston and New York.

The Stanford Glee Club is to give a concert shortly at the Theatre of the Golden Bough. Arthur Winterbottom was here recently to make arrangements.

"CHIMES OF NORMANDY" TO BE GIVEN IN CARMEL

John R. Pavilla of Pacific Grove is engaged upon a task that should assuredly result in the Monterey Peninsula chalking itself down as his debtor in its annals of art and amusement. This week he began rehearsals of a revival of that delightful old-time opera, "The Chimes of Normandy," or, to use the title its composer and librettist gave it, "The Bells of Corneville." It is Mr. Pavilla's purpose to present this opera in Carmel as well as in Pacific Grove and Monterey. The date will be sometime in December.

But this is not all Mr. Pavilla has in mind. He purposes, in the near future, to revive many of the old successes of Gilbert and Sullivan. Comic opera, in a word, that ministers to every possible taste—including good taste! Prose of the wittiest; humor of the subtlest verse of the nimblest, music and dancing, sentiment and buffoonery—what other comic operas have such a multiplicity of appeal as those produced during the triumvirate of Gilbert-Sullivan-D'Oyly Carte! Those were the days of the tuneful and delightful "Pirates of Penzance," "Pinafore," the rollicking "Gondoliers," and—perhaps the flower of the Gilbert-Sullivan collaborative regime—"The Yeoman of the Guard." All these Mr. Pavilla, a sedulous Savoyard, steeped in the Gilbert and Sullivan tradition, promises to revive. Other favorites of a dead generation he promises, too. "Erminie," "Madame Angou," "The Grand Duchess," "Virginia," "Girofle-Girofle," "The Black Hussar," names themselves that are music in the memory.

But for the present the graceful and delicate score of "The Chimes of Normandy," is occupying the producer's mind. Mr. Pavilla is a sound musician and comes from sturdy musical stock. Was not his father one of the leading bandmasters of Great Britain? And has not he himself sung the comedy roles in these operas on the professional stage in England and this country? Yes, a sound musician, Pavilla, of probity and worth. And more. He is that rarest of all rare denizens of the comic-opera world—a comedian who actually can sing. Those who heard him as Koko in the Forest Theatre production of "The Mikado" last summer do not need to be told that he can sing as well as he can put genuine buffoonery across the footlights. And those who remember his Lord High Executioner of Titipu will not rate seeing and hearing his Gaspard, the Miser, in "The Chimes of Normandy," Mr. Pavilla played this role for many years in England and this country.

The producer promises us a chorus that can act as well as sing. As for his principals—well, Marion Hawley of the Monterey Presidio, who sang Yum-Yum so delightfully in "The Mikado" last summer, will be the Germaine of "The Chimes." Bessie Louise Bane will sing Serpolette. Mrs. R. E. Bonham will be the charming Suzanne; Minnie Hawkins, Manette; and Alpha Roland, Gertrude. F. L. Ethridge, whose singing and acting were one of the delightful features of "The Mikado" last summer, will have a part suitable to his splendid basso contati as "Henri, Marquis de Corneville, Robert Harkins will be the Jean Gremicheux.

It is something to look forward to—a winter of colorful, timeful opera on the Monterey Peninsula.

ENJOYABLE AFTERNOON TEA

The Mary Austin house in north Carmel, now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Phillips, was the location of a delightful tea last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Phillips, daughter of Judge Fred A. Treat, entertained the following: Mrs. Frederick Crothers, Mrs. Francis Murphy, Miss Maren Deane Pederson, Mrs. Harold Thorup, Miss Frances Giffin, Mrs. DeWitt Appleton, Jr., Miss Merle Larritt, and Mrs. Richard Pederson.

THE LIBRARY AND THE CHILDREN

The Carmel Library is free to the children. There is no question of paying when they ask for books. Not every one in Carmel knows this, but the children know it and take full advantage of their privilege. They come in after school and on Saturdays to take out books or to read in the children's alcove or perhaps just to look at the Stone collection of stereoscopic views, purchased especially for them. The wee ones are content with big picture books.

Naturally it is a matter of pride and pleasure to the Library to keep the children well supplied with the best books, but anyone who knows children and knows modern book-making will understand the difficulty of this task. The books wear out rapidly and require constant replacement, and as this department is all outgo and no income, it has not been possible to make it what it should be. Just now there is need for more replacements than usual, and that is one reason we are asking you to subscribe ten or twenty-five dollars to the Library instead of three. The responses to our appeal already justify a considerable expenditure for the children. Once the old favorites are on the shelves again in proper guise, we hope to add some of the fascinating new juveniles the book-shops are showing, but this part of the program depends upon how many Carmel people become contributing or supporting members of the Library Association.

When you are considering whether to make a larger subscription to the Library, remember the children.

ABOUT JUDGES AND LAWYERS

Written for the Pine Cone
By the Observer

I think that our Judges are all honorable men—every mother's son of them—in fact, I think I could go into any Court and swear they were; I don't know what version of the Bible they use in Courts to swear on, but if it wasn't the right one, the one I was brought up to believe was the only true, pure and undefiled version of the Good Book, I am sure I could swear that even our lawyers are men who have only the best interests of the people at heart; that they would rather die than dishonor their profession; that their integrity is so high that it is impossible for them to countenance a wrong done by one of their guild to a client; that is, if the client has sufficient "pull" to raise hades about the injury done him.

Yes, our lawyers surely are a remarkable collection—they must be very honorable—for I seldom hear of one of them disbarred by their associates, the Bar Association, or whatever it is that disbars them when they are naughty.

It may be the o'er slopping of the milk of human kindness that our judiciary is blessed with that makes the erring member of their profession get a second chance to "go straight"; and, perhaps, a third or fourth chance.

This meditation comes from my reading the following in a New York morning paper.

"Louis I. Isquith, a Brooklyn lawyer, was punished enough when he was disbarred after pleading guilty to stealing $1,000.00 last July 14, General Sessions Judge Talley decided yesterday."

The Judge was surely right—it would never do to send a lawyer "up the river;" that would establish a precedent that might become popular; and moreover, I read lately that our prisons are fearfully overcrowded.

Well 'Lord love the Judges—someone must love them—so I wish it on the Lord.' And, Oh, Lord! how much or how little, is a lawyer allowed to steal before he is sent to prison?

Section 5. All ordinances and parts of ordinances, insofar as they conflict with this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

Section 6. This ordinance is hereby declared to be urgent and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, and shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its final passage and approval. The following is a statement of such urgency. The preservation of the public peace, health, and safety is at present endangered through the inability of the Marshal of said city, due to the rapid growth thereof, to afford the citizens thereof the requisite police protection while engaged, as at present required, in the collecting of municipal taxes.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, this 26th day of October, 1925, by the following vote:

ORDINANCE NO. 67

An Ordinance Regulating The Making and Refilling of Excavations In and Under any Street, Alley, Sidewalk, Public Way or Public Place in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and Repealing All Ordinances and Parts of Ordinances in Conflict With This Ordinance.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to make any excavation in or under the surface of any street, alley, sidewalk, public way, or public place in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, without first obtaining a permit so to do from the City Clerk of said city, and depositing with said City Clerk upon receipt of such permit, a cash deposit to defray the cost of refilling such excavation and restoring the surface of said street, alley, sidewalk, public way or public place, as the case may be, to its former condition as nearly as practicable.

Section 2. The application for the permit herein required shall be in writing, and addressed to and filed with said City Clerk. It shall state clearly the nature, extent and location of the excavation proposed to be made, and the purpose for which the same is to be made. Upon such cash deposit being paid to the City Clerk said City Clerk shall issue the permit applied for, and deliver the same to the applicant therefor, or his duly authorized agent. Such permit shall set forth the time within which such excavation work shall start and also the time for the completion of the work of refilling the same and restoring the surface excavated to its former condition. The time for such commencement and such completion may be extended by the said Board of Trustees only upon good cause shown for such extension. The applicant for such excavation in cases of unpaved streets and sidewalks, shall forfeit to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, as liquidated damages the sum of ten dollars ($10) per day for each day such work of refilling and re-surfacing remains uncompleted beyond the period for such completion fixed by said City Clerk, or as extended by said Board of Trustees, and the City Attorney of said city shall institute the necessary legal proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction for the collection of such damages, and prosecute the same to completion.

Section 3. All excavations, refillings, replacements and re-surfacing shall be made under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets of said city, and shall be conducted in such manner as to do the least possible damage to contiguous lands and improvements.

Section 4. All applicants for such excavation permits shall deposit with said City Clerk at the time aforesaid sufficient moneys to defray the cost of refilling such excavations and of re-surfacing, in accordance with the following schedule of prices:

Excavating surfaces paved with concrete or black base pavement at the rate of one dollar ($1.00) per square foot.

Excavating surfaces paved with oil macadam pavement, at the rate of fifty cents (50c) per square foot.

Excavating surfaces paved with cement sidewalk pavement, at the rate of forty cents (40c) per square foot.

Excavating surfaces of unpaved streets and sidewalks, at the rate of twenty cents (20c) per square foot.

Section 5. All such cash deposits shall be paid by said City Clerk into the treasury of said city and shall be, in each such case, payment in full to said city for the refilling and re-surfacing by the street department thereof of each such excavation.

Section 6. All such excavations shall be refilled and re-surfaced by the Street Department of said city; provided, however, that in the case of excavations made in and under unpaved streets and sidewalks the application for an excavation permit may, at his option, cause the same to be refilled and resurfaced at his own expense within the time fixed by the City Clerk in such permit for the completion of the work, but in no case shall the cash deposit herein provided for be dispensed with;

Provided, further, that where such work of refilling and re-surfacing excavations on unpaved streets and sidewalks is done at the expense of the applicant, to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets and within the time fixed for the completion of said work by the City Clerk, said cash deposit shall be repaid in full to such applicant, otherwise the same shall be forfeited to said city.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of the applicant for an excavation permit on receipt of the same to make such excavation in such manner as to provide free access to all fire hydrants and to provide safe and adequate corssings over such excavations for vehicular traffic and for pedestrians, should such crossings, in the judgment of the Superintendent of Streets be necessary. Suitable barriers shall be constructed about the excavation for the prevention of accidents, and adequate lights shall be continuously maintained thereon from the period of sunset to sunrise.

Section 8. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or by imprisonment for a period of not more than thirty days, in the city jail, or in the county jail of Monterey County, California, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 9. All ordinances and parts of ordinances, in so far as they conflict with this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

Section 10. This ordinance is hereby declared to be urgent and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, comfort, health and safety of the people of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and shall take effect and be in force forthwith from and after its final passage and approval.

The following is a statement of such urgency: There is no adequate ordinance covering the subject matter hereof in effect in said City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and the Board of Trustees of said city hereby determines that this ordinance is immediately necessary to safeguard pedestrians and vehicular traffic on and along the public places of said city.

PASSED AND ADOPTED, by the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, this 26th day of October, 1925, by the following vote:

AYES: Trustees: Kibbler, Goold, Larouette, Dennis, Parkes.
NOES: Trustees: None.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

A Review of California Conditions from

WELLS FARGO BANK & TRUST CO., SAN FRANCISCO

CALIFORNIA—The agricultural season now drawing to a close has been on the whole one of the most satisfactory in several years. During September weather and climatic conditions were about normal in most sections of the state. Light to moderate showers fell on the 17th and 18th of the month, being heaviest in the Sacramento Valley and central coast counties. Low temperatures and moisture held back the development of rice and cotton and retarded the drying of fruits. Rain early in October injured drying raisins, especially Muscats, few of which were stacked. In southern California the rain was beneficial, especially to citrus crops. Harvesting of grapes, prunes, apples, rice, alfalfa, cotton and other crops continued in September and the first half of October. Cotton picking and ginning are proceeding actively in southern California and the San Joaquin Valley. Vegetables are plentiful in markets and early truck has done well in the Imperial Valley. Livestock continues in excellent condition and the grass is well started on ranges in the North. In most of the rest of California dry feed is sufficient for all needs.

RICE

Although cool weather has retarded maturity of California rice, conditions have allowed good filling of the grain. The forecast on October 1 was 6,026,000 bushels, compared with a production in 1924 of 4,497,000 bushels.

BEANS

Reports on October 1 indicate that only 89,000 acres of Lima beans will be harvested, as compared with July 1 estimate of 91,000, and a production of 874,000 sacks is estimated, compared with 670,000 sacks from 65,000 acres in 1924 and 1,070,000 sacks from 100,000 acres in 1923. Forecast of production of other field beans is approximately 1,061,000 sacks.

COTTON

Condition of the California cotton crop October 1 indicated a production of 114,000 bales, compared with estimate September 1 of 112,000 bales, and a production of 77,946 bales in 1924. A yield of approximately 321 pounds per acre is indicated for this year. The final outcome of the crop is dependent largely upon climatic conditions during October and November. An early frost followed by considerable moisture in central California may curtail production, while comparatively warm, dry weather would make for good yields. Lower California (Mexico) will produce approximately 75,000 bales.

GRAPES

Production of all grapes in California is estimated at 2,013,000 tons, compared with 1,550,000 tons last year and 2,030,000 tons in 1923. Of this amount, the 1925 forecast of raisin grapes is 1,207,000 tons, compared with 900,000 tons in 1924 and 1,290,000 tons in 1923. It is estimated that 241,000 tons of raisin grapes had been shipped fresh up to October 9, which is equivalent to 60,000 tons of cured raisins if dried. Since the amount of raisin grapes that will be shipped fresh cannot be determined it is yet impossible to forecast the cured raisin crop.

OIL

Production of crude oil in California declined 17,000 barrels per day from a daily average of 669,500 barrels to 652,500 barrels during the five weeks ended September 15 to October 13, according to estimates of American Petroleum Institute. On September 21 leading companies announced a reduction of from 10 to 25 cents a barrel in the price of crude oil in southern California and 35 cents a barrel on low gravity crude oils in the San Joaquin Valley. Some of the larger producers are reducing output by shutting down or restricting flow of wells.

SALES OF AUTOMOBILES

Sales of passenger cars and motor trucks in California during the month of September were 14% greater than the same month last year. Passenger car sales increased 13% and commercial car sales 19%.

TIRES

Wholesalers of automobile tires report September orders running ahead of last year, despite extremely heavy purchases in July when price advances were announced.

BUILDING

Fifty-seven leading cities in California record building permits issued in September to the amount of $31,744,078, compared with $33,801,926 in August and $34,189,252 in September, 1924. For the first nine months of this year the same cities issued $309,349,461 in building permits, compared with $299,839,307 in the same period of 1924 and $327,512,120 in the first nine months of 1923.

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco department stores report a continuance of satisfactory trade in the first part of October, with sales running higher than last year. Stores are still purchasing for immediate requirements only. Bradstreet's report an improvement in the retail ready-to-wear trade, particularly in men's clothing.

TOURIST TRADE

Jobbers are enjoying better business than last year and collections in most lines are improving. Leading hotels report tourist trade running slightly ahead of last year in September and the first part of October, with excellent bookings for this winter. The year 1925 has so far been a very good one for the local hotel business.

BUILDING

San Francisco issued $3,158,082 in building permits during September, compared with $3,840,076 in August and $5,671,784 for September, 1924. In the first nine months of the present year, San Francisco building permits totaled $39,318,786, compared with $39,858,900 in the same period of 1924, and $34,089,996 in the first three-quarters of 1923.

In the San Francisco Bay area, 11 municipalities issued $9,849,187 in permits during September, which was slightly less than last September, but showing gains of 48% and 66% respectively over the same month in 1923 and 1922. During the first nine months of 1925, 13 municipalities in the Bay area issued $90,692,045 in building permits, a gain of 11% over the same period last year and 30% over the first nine months of 1923.

Mrs. Calvert Meade will have as guest for several months her sister, who arrived recently from the east.

Mrs. Gladys Young spent the last week-end in San Francisco with her mother, who is in a hospital, seriously ill.

Miss Gertrude Larrett is seen on the streets of Carmel in her beautiful new Oldsmobile Six Sedan, purchased from Paul J. Denny.

City Trustee C. O. Goold and wife returned last week from a ten days' motor trip in southern California and northern Mexico.

Walter M. Basham and wife are away on a month's vacation. They are motoring through the Pacific north-west and Canada.

A four-weeks' journey from Pennslyvania has brought Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger and children here to become permanent residents.

By this time, Miss Ella Shaw of Carmel Highlands is well on her way to New York, whence she will sail for Europe in a few days.

The steward at Carmel Highlands Inn, A. P. Hanson, was married last week. The couple have returned after a brief honeymoon in Los Angeles.

The Champlin home at Carmelo and Thirteenth is now occupied by the Misses Katherine and Janet Champlin, who recently returned from abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Benson send news from Oakland that they are the parents of a daughter, born on October 24th. Mrs. Benson was Miss Margaret Clute.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Starrow, who recently purchased and renovated the Hunter cottage on Lincoln street, have returned to Pasadena for the winter.

Miss Louise Dewey sustained a broken wrist and quite a cut in her chin, when she fell from her bicycle last Tuesday. It was necessary to take four stitches in her chin and reset the wrist.

Paul J. Denny left for Oakland last evening to meet Mrs. Denny, who will arrive Saturday morning from Denver, where she has been visiting friends, and incidentally to bring down another Olds Six.

J. L. Connor, who has the contract for the Ocean-Carpenter street improvement, has a gang of men and much equipment on the job. Surveying, plowing surfacing and pouring concrete will require about three months.

A party of artists from the Santa Cruz Art League motored to Carmel on Monday and visited the different studios here. Those in the party were: Miss Margaret Rogers, President of the League, Mrs. Leonard Penniman, Mrs. M. E. Shaw, Mrs. C. Gentry Redman, Miss Cora de Gavere and Mrs. Margarite Redman Byron.

"The Game Cock," opens today in the Seven Arts building. This new concern is the enterprise of Mr. and Mrs. C. Halsted Yates and Mrs. Robert Welles Ritchie. The shop will carry fine women's wear and exclusive confections. There will also be a loaning library of the latest books.

Winter sojourners here will be Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stinson of Oakland.

Mrs. W. T. Beatty and her niece are expected to arrive at Pebble Beach from Flossmore, Illinois, today.

Miss Mary Mower has returned from a two months' visit with relatives in Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco.

Walter B. O'Connell, well known here, is now one of the assistant managers in the Edgwater Beach Hotel in Chicago. He was married recently.

Leonard Perry, erstwhile Carmel realtor, is reported to be on the financial rocks, having filed a petition of bankruptcy. Still, you never can tell.

The fund being gathered in town to assist Delbert Wermuth to rehabilitate his home, recently destroyed by fire, has reached a total of $330. The Pine Cone is still receiving subscriptions. It is understood that Wermuth will build on the old site.

Streets and building sites are now being laid out on the Hatton Fields tracts, east of the Carmel city limits. Reeve Conover, civil engineer and landscape architect, is in charge of the work.

Contractor Sam Miller is building a six-room plastered dwelling and a board and battened house for Mrs. C. S. Lowell at Eleventh avenue and Scenic Drive. Miller is also remodeling a house for Mrs. B. Flowers at Casanova and Tenth.

CONCERT MUCH ENJOYED

If in booking future attractions, the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts is as successful as in the case of Lieurances, who appeared here in concert last Sunday evening, they will always be assured of a capacity house.

Thurlow Lieurance is a composer of no small ability. Each number that he played was preceded by a sketch of the legend upon which the composition was based.

Mrs. Edna Wooley Lieurance has a charming voice and was most kindly in response to encores.

Everybody enjoyed the concert. We hope they will come again.

NEW ELECTRIC SUBSTATION FOR CARMEL

James F. Pollard, superintendent of the Coast Valleys Gas and Electric Co. announce that planes are under way for the erection in this city of a sub-station to serve Carmel-by-the-Sea and vicinity and the Carmel Valley. The cost will be approximately $35,000.

The company also plans a new $100,000 sub-station in Monterey. Both improvements will be installed within a year.

The new sub-stations will be equipped with the most modern developments in power transmission equipment. A load of 22,000 volts taken from the power transmission lines leading to the Peninsula from the main switchboard at Salinas will be reduced to 4000 volts at the new sub-stations.

The Curtain Shop

The large and growing demand for cretonnes for curtains and for other uses has made it necessary for Miss Brouhard to increase her stock of samples now on display at 433 Alvarado street, Monterey.—Adv.
